Operative went to the garage of Gill Stalker at 219 French Street, as per instructions to interview this man, who is supposed to know Erling well as Erling's people live across from the garage.

Mr. Stalker was not in when operative arrived there. After remaining around for over an hour, operative learned from the young men in the garage that they did not know when Mr. Stalker would return, so I left the place. Later in the afternoon operative again visited the garage, but he had not returned yet.

Operative went to the home of Mr. Hart on Franklin Street near the Lincoln Highway and asked for the son, John, and was informed that he is stopping in Jersey City with some friends and has only visited his home once since he returned from his ship trip.

Respectfully submitted:
